

Midwestern Global Health Conference

Global Health Crossroads: Dare to be Challenged

Friday, September 11– Sunday, September 13, 2009

What it is:

The Midwestern Regional Global Health conference to be held at the Doubletree Hotel, Omaha, Nebraska. Sponsored by the International Studies and Programs and the Student Alliance for Global Health at the University of Nebraska Medical Center.

For Whom:

Students, residents, faculty and staff in the health professions; students of pre-med, pre-dentistry, etc.

What is included:

- Keynote speakers
- Concurrent break-out sessions
- Student poster session
- Elective opportunities
- Friday evening welcome reception; Saturday lunch; Saturday and Sunday coffee breaks

Registration:

- $75 Students
- $125 Regular

Conference registration may be completed online at:
<http://www.unmc.edu/isp/>

Own what you can always carry with you; know languages, countries, know people. Let memory be your bag.

—Aleksandr Solzhenitsyn

Conference Highlights

Global Health and your Career • Wilderness & Tropical Medicine • Cross-cultural Issues • Immigrant and Minority Health • Global Health Education • International Electives: Selection and Preparation • Medical Spanish Options • Global Health Elective Opportunities • Taking a Year Off From Medical School • Poster Presentations • Films

Featured Speakers

- Dr. Ed Atwell— Founder of Medical Outreach of America
- Dr. Keith Brown— Founder of Global Medicine Rescue Services
- John Leisure—Creative/Development Director of Engeye Health Clinic, Uganda
- Donna Barry— Advocacy and Policy Director at Partners in Health

Accommodations:

The event will be held at Doubletree Hotel located near the Old Market, in the heart of downtown Omaha. To book a room for the conference, call Doubletree Hotel and mention you are with the Global Health Conference.

Tel: 1-402-346-7600

Fax: 1-402-346-5722

UNIVERSITY OF Nebraska
Medical Center

Full conference details can be found at: <http://www.unmc.edu/isp/> For questions call (402) 559-6414